

Date: Tue, 10 Oct 2000 18:57:37 -0800
From: "Patricia H. Partnow, Ph.D." <ppartnow@alaska.net>
To: SPERANZA ROSEMARIE _ <fnrs@aurora.uaf.edu>
Subject: Re: restrictions on oral history tapes

95-35-01/18

The missing Lind is William Lind.

Yes, the tapes can be listened to but the informants reserve the rights to their stories, to the extent that the tapes contain discrete stories. In other words, Ignatius did not want someone else putting out a book with his stories in it, unless he or his heirs were contacted first and gave their permission. On the other hand, the information people provided is meant for posterity.

Pat

>TO: Pat Partnow
>FROM: Rose Speranza

>
>We have just received an Interlibrary Loan request for the tapes you >recorded in 1992 in Alutiiq communities. Robyn Russell ordinarily would >contact you on this matter, but she is out of the office for several >weeks. Will Schneider suggested I contact you directly.

>
>The 18 tapes in question have been given the accession number of H95-35.
>It seems to both Will and me that the restrictions are contradictory so I >>want to be sure I understand them.

>
>It appears that all of the tapes listed below are available as is for use >by the general public. There is nothing that needs to be kept >confidential because any tapes that were meant to be confidential were >never placed in the Archives. The interviewees listed below all intended >their tapes to be used by researchers.

>Is that correct?

>The interviewees are:

- >Walter Stepanoff
- >Christine Martin
- >Emil Artemie
- >Ralph A. Phillips
- >Olga Kalmakoff
- >Joe Kalmakoff
- >---- Lind?
- >Doris Lind
- >Ignatius Koslerick
- >Elia and Mary Phillips
- >Aleck Constantine

>Thank you for you attention to this.